What this page is. This summary is issued by Dragonshine for information and convenience. It is not a certificate and does not replace one: the certificates themselves are the certifier's documents, issued on the standards and dates shown above, and remain valid only while our test methods and factory production control stay unchanged.

Full certificates, test reports and declarations of performance: email info@dragonshine.net or use the enquiry form at www.texlyweave.com/contact.html — tell us the product line, collection and project location and we will confirm which documents apply.
